Cover letter

Ninna Svanström

I am a 27-year-old master student in Interaction Design and Technologies at Chalmers University, looking for a job in UX, UI or digital design.

I have a very good knowledge in UX, as I am very good at balancing aesthetics and art with usability and functionality. I have a strong passion to transform dull interactions into rich and memorable experiences. I have also recently become interested in web and app development, a field that I have started to practice but expect and hope for further possibilities of development.

I am empathetic, creative, responsible and competent. While I am eccentric and express myself with broad strokes, I am to a very high degree also structured and disciplined. I believe that this is a combination that has allowed me to both develop my artistic and exploratory side but also accomplish a 5-year-long education on an advanced level with high grades Furthermore, I have always been very loyal and responsible to my employers.

You are welcome to have a look at my portfolio: https://ninnasvanstrom.github.io/portfolio/

I think that I am a good fit to your team, and I hope that you see my potential and how we can accomplish great things together. I hope to hear back from you.

Best,

Ninna Svanström
